

It comes back to you

A long time ago I told My friends, "Do to others what you would like them to do to you."¹ That is known as the Golden Rule, and it means that you should treat others with the same kindness and concern that you would like others to show you.

I want your actions and thoughts to be ruled by love. If you want others to show you kindness, that's what you should show them. True kindness always inspires kindness in return.

You make Me so proud when you show others that you care. Being kind and thoughtful to others is a way you can be more like Me.

*Whenever you give kindness away,
It always comes back to you to stay.*
