

Sad times won't last forever

If you are feeling a little sad, be encouraged! This sad time and these feelings will pass. Soon, things will work out all right, and you'll once again be happy.

I will bring you comfort, so that the sad you're feeling now will become easier with time. I promise! I will be here to help you feel loved and happy. I will make your heart glad once again!

*During times when my heart is sad,
Jesus knows just how to make me glad!*
