

I look at your heart

It does not matter to Me how you look, whether you are tall or short, strong or weak, rich or poor. I love you for who you are!

I look at your heart and mind. If you are doing your best to be helpful and kind, I see this. When you take time to learn more about Me, so you can follow in My footsteps, I know this, too. These things make Me happy, because I see that you are trying to do your best—your heart is doing what's right.

Always remember, it is what's on the inside—in your heart and mind—that matters most to Me. Do your best to be beautiful on the inside by being kind and caring, and that's what will stand out to people the most about you!

*Jesus loves me from my head to my toes!
He sees my heart and the good I want to show.*
