

Remove the Weeds

Just like a gardener takes care of the plants, you have parents and teachers who are helping you to learn to do what is right. Listen to your parents and teachers to learn important life lessons that can help you to keep the garden of your heart clear from the weeds that could hurt your or others' lives.

Your heart is like a garden that needs diligent tending. Every day you have the chance to learn something new that can help you do better at tending your garden.

Reading and studying God's Word is one way to learn how to properly care for your garden. Jesus is the master gardener who knows just what is needed to keep the garden of your heart flourishing.
