

Captives to Babylon

Based on Daniel 1–4 and 6.

In 605 BC, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked and captured the city of Jerusalem. When Nebuchadnezzar returned to Babylon, he took with him treasures from the Jewish temple. He also took prisoners, including many sons of the Judean nobles.

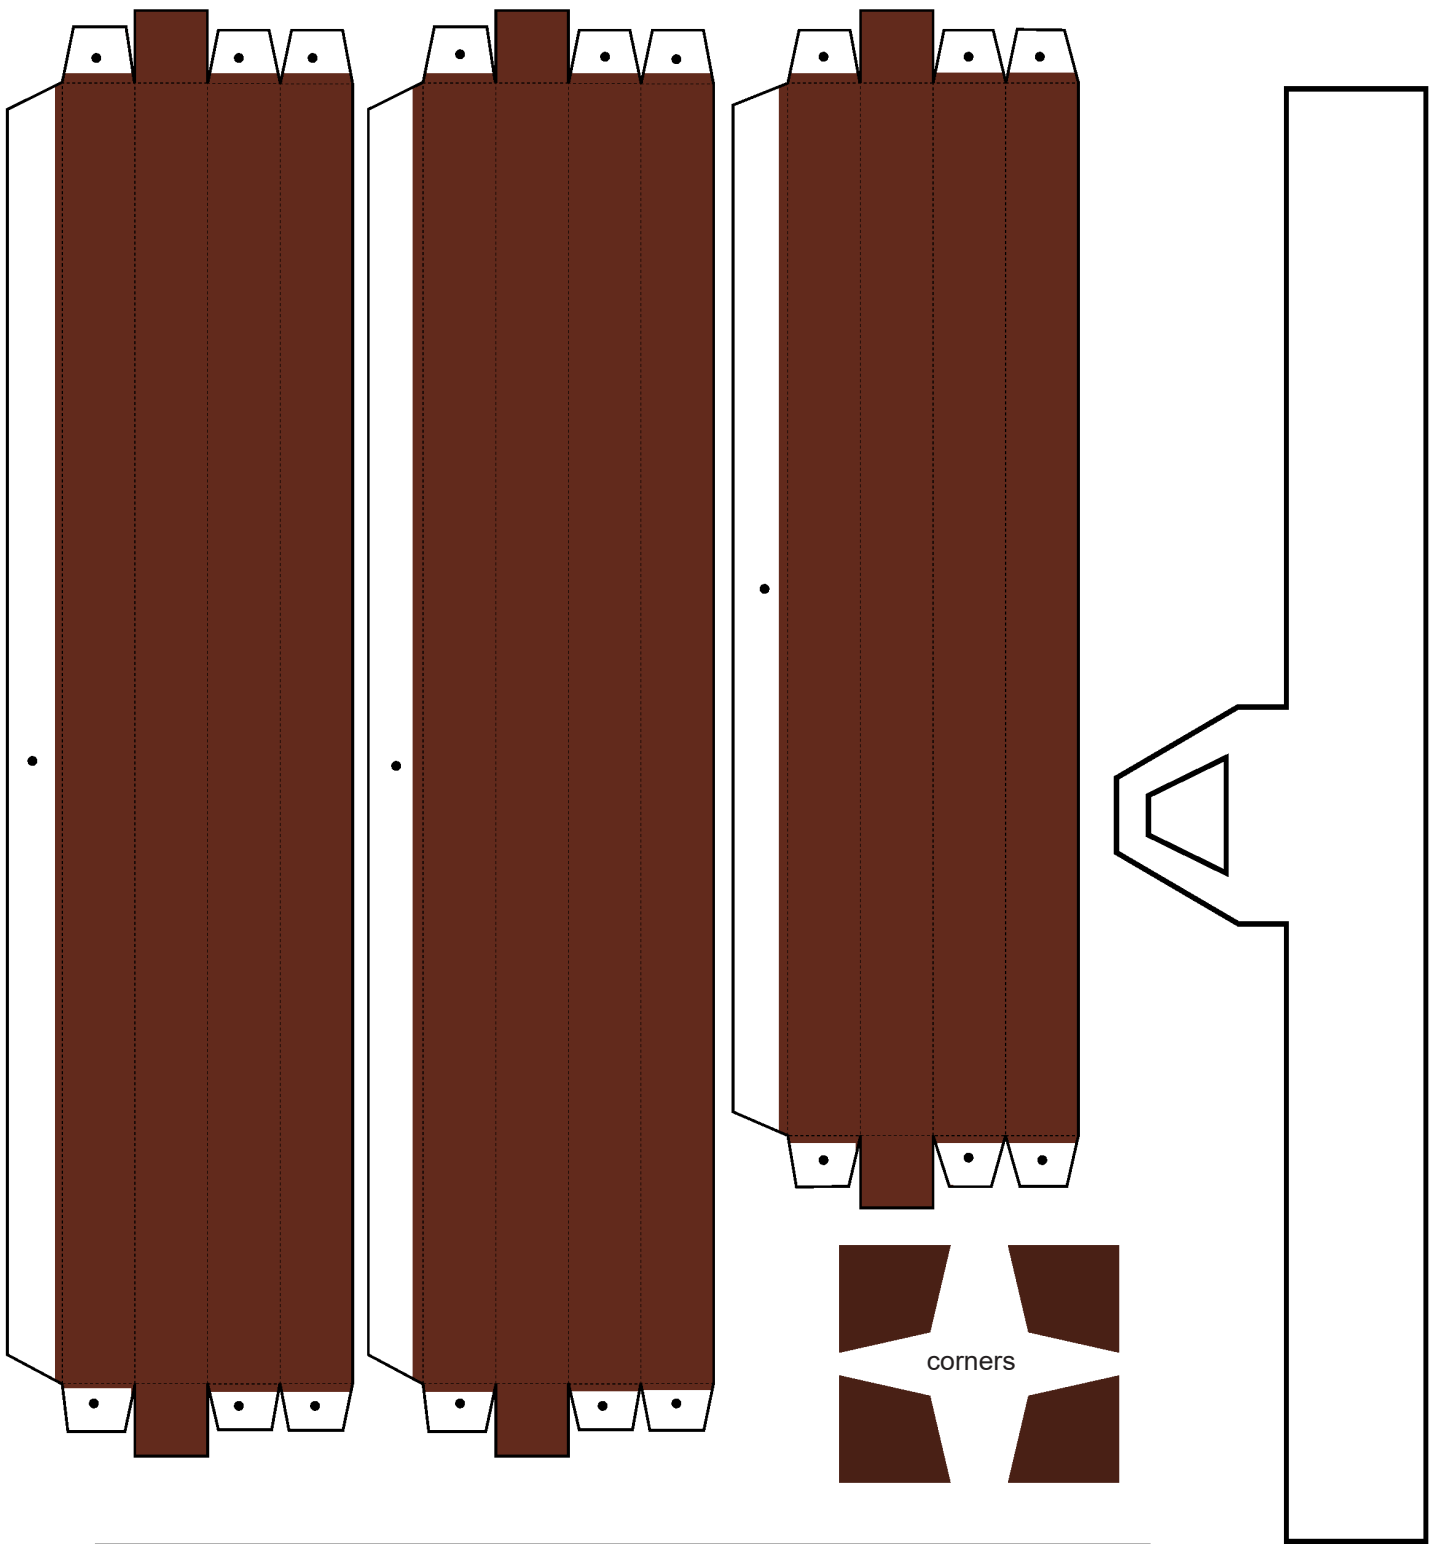

The Bible tells us the story of four of these captives who were given the Babylonian names Shadrach, Meshach, Abednego, and Belteshazzar. (Their Hebrew names were Hananiah, Mishael, Azariah, and Daniel.)

Being taken captive wasn't the end of the road for these young men, who went on to do great things for God. Read in the book of Daniel about how they stood up for their belief and faith in God, influencing many in the Babylonian kingdom with their active faith.

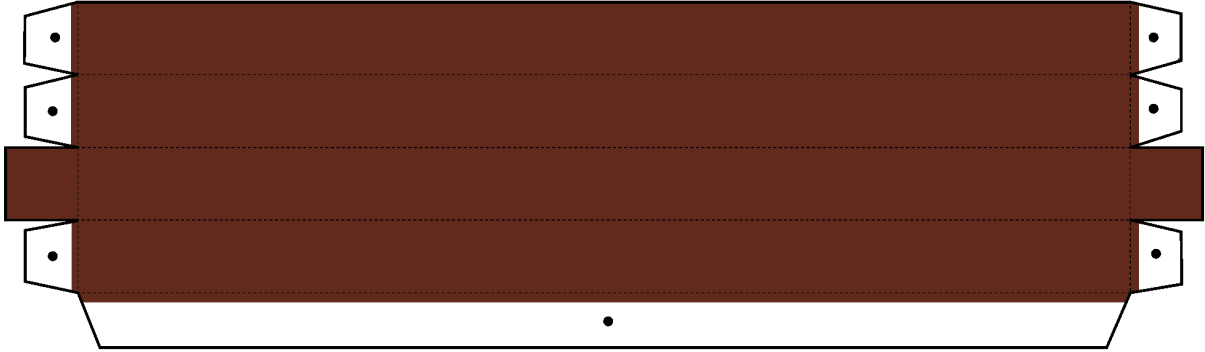

Also, due to their diligence and trustworthiness, God raised them to important positions of responsibility in the king's court. A few times, Daniel was able to help King Nebuchadnezzar through his God-given gift by interpreting visions and dreams.

Read their amazing stories in Daniel 1–4 and 6.

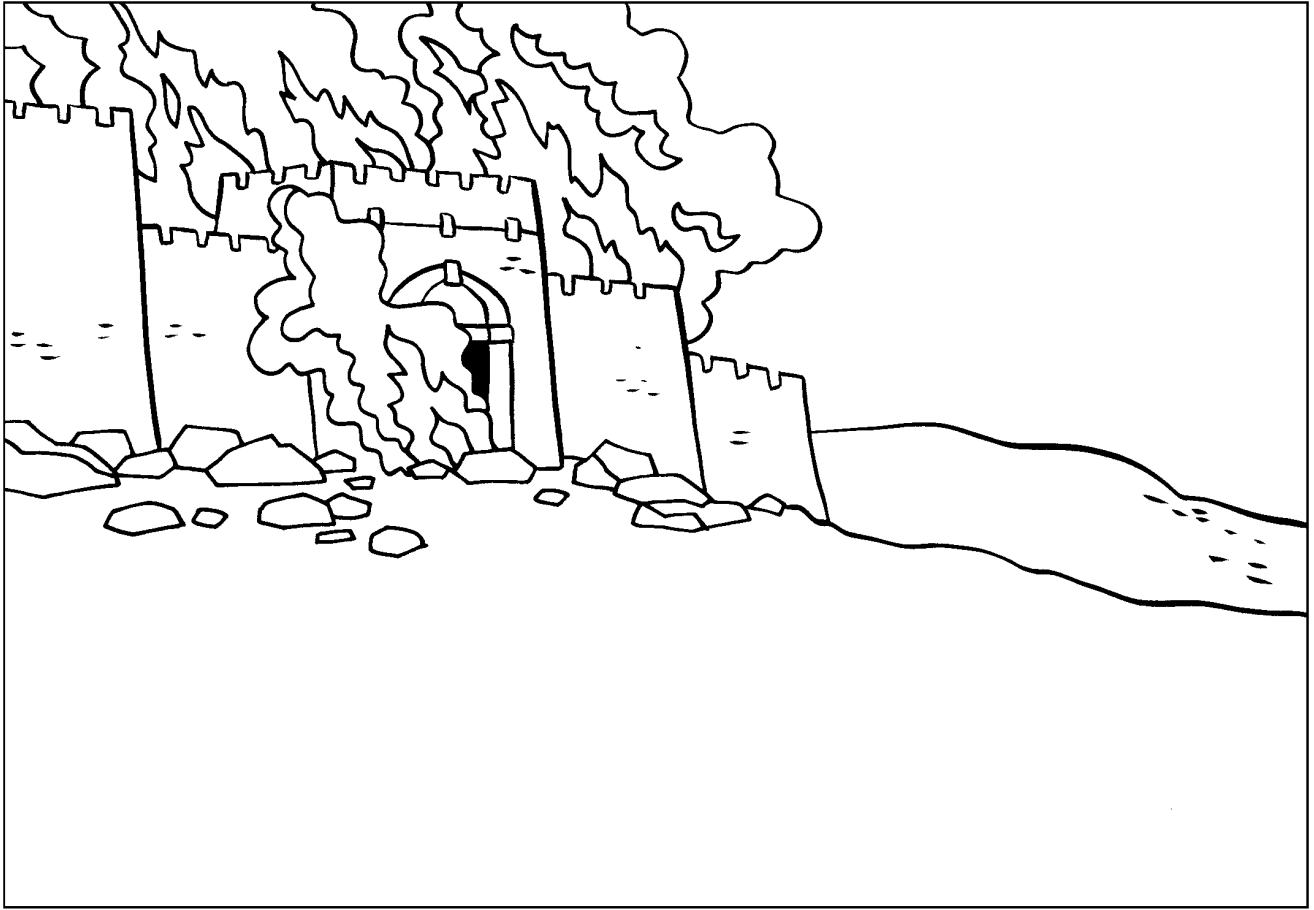

part to glue
on the back

frame parts

Captives to Babylon

Based on Daniel 1–4 and 6.

In 605 BC, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked and captured the city of Jerusalem. When Nebuchadnezzar returned to Babylon, he took with him treasures from the Jewish temple. He also took prisoners, including many sons of the Judean nobles.

The Bible tells us the story of four of these captives who were given the Babylonian names Shadrach, Meshach, Abednego, and Belteshazzar. (Their Hebrew names were Hananiah, Mishael, Azariah, and Daniel.)

Being taken captive wasn't the end of the road for these young men, who went on to do great things for God. Read in the book of Daniel about how they stood up for their belief and faith in God, influencing many in the Babylonian kingdom with their active faith.

Also, due to their diligence and trustworthiness, God raised them to important positions of responsibility in the king's court. A few times, Daniel was able to help King Nebuchadnezzar through his God-given gift by interpreting visions and dreams.

Read their amazing stories in Daniel 1–4 and 6.

