

Everything Turns Out Alright

All things work together for good for those who love God.
(Romans 8:28 NKJV)

When a friend
has to leave,
when we get sick, when we have problems,
those events
don't look good to us.

In the Bible we learn that because we love and believe in Jesus, even when things don't seem to go well, or difficult things happen to us, we can trust that they will work out for good in the end. That means that we have faith that some day we'll be able to see something good come from what has happened.

Maybe you planned to play at the park, but it started to rain and you had to stay inside. The rain at first seemed like a “bad thing,” but you still had fun, because you found something enjoyable to do inside instead.

There are many ways that good can come from the things that at first seem bad. Jesus knows how to make everything turn out alright.

Action

On a piece of paper draw a swirling scribble. Now color in each of the spaces of the scribble with a variety of colors, until everything is colored in. What once looked like a scribble is now a pretty and colorful illustration.
