

THE ALMIGHTY POWER OF PRAYER

Prayer releases the power of God's Spirit.
Through your prayers action takes place in the spirit.

Your prayers are like the keys that enter the locks of heaven's storehouses.

As you pray, those doors are opened, and out pours the heavenly power or blessings you need, or as God sees fit to give to you.

It can be difficult to understand exactly how prayer works.

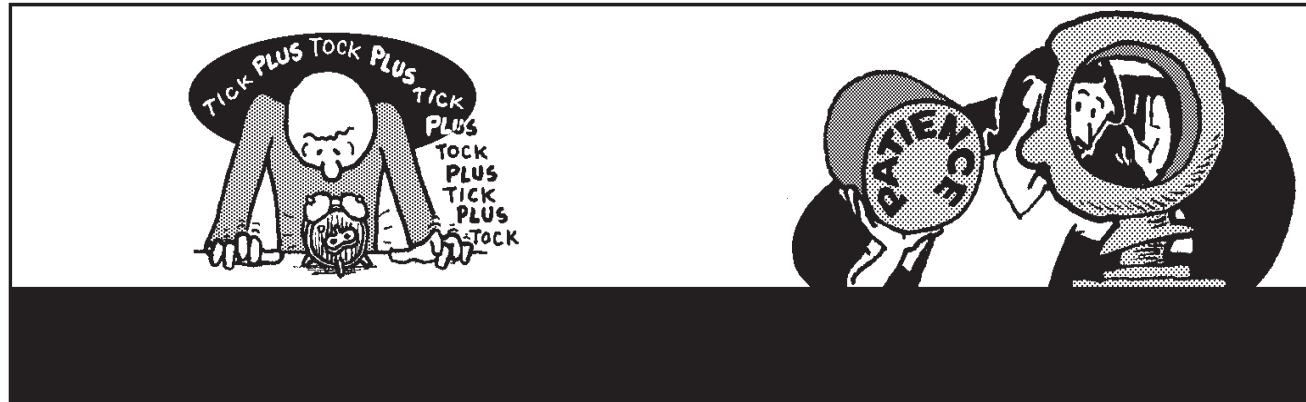

You may sometimes think your prayers are only words, especially since you often can't see the full effect of your prayers. Mark 11:24 says, "Whatever things you ask when you pray, believe that you receive them, and you will have them."<sup>1</sup> Believing takes faith. But it is this faith that turns prayers into reality and that makes the impossible possible.

God holds the greatest power ever known, and through something as simple as praying, you have access to that power. God's power can change the tides and seasons, give life, and create something from nothing.

Sometimes you may pray for the same thing over and over, but that's not because God's power is "broken" or not working; rather it's that there's something that needs to fall into place first, in order for God to bring about the greatest result.

But even when the answer takes a little time in coming, your prayers are still at work, and the answer is formulating, eventually to climax in the complete answer you've requested, and in the way God knows is best for you.
